

Watercolor Painting

Wednesdays, January 22 – February 5, 2025

6:00-8:00pm

Ken Clubb, Instructor

CAC Member: 55.00; Nonmember 70.00

Minimum students required: 6 Maximum students: 10

Registration deadline: January 15

About the class:

Ken will teach some principles of watercolor in three evening sessions. The 1st evening, Ken will share a demo, insights on how to prepare the paper and how to sketch a drawing. There will be some work expected outside of class. In the following classes, Ken will lead the class in painting a landscape and a portrait. This class is for beginners but would benefit someone who is proficient also.

About the Instructor:

Ken Clubb was a freelance illustrator and a commercial artist working with pencils and watercolors. He has taught part-time in the graphic design department at Illinois Central College, including a class in watercolor painting. Portraits of the Alwan family that hang at Alwan & Sons Meat Co, billboards for Goodwill Industries and a mural painted on the wall of the cafeteria in Caterpillar Building KK in East Peoria are some of his more public works.
